المراجع: 103600357_36006 التاريخ: 12 - 16 Oct 2026 الموقع: كوالالمبور الرسوم: Euro 5200

Course Overview:

The "Associate Business Continuity Professional ABCP Prep: BCM Strategies, BIA & Risk Plans" is an intensive 5-day corporate training program designed to equip professionals with the essential competencies to build, assess, and maintain a robust Business Continuity Management BCM framework. This ABCP certification prep course aligns with DRI International's Professional Practices and integrates best practices from ISO 22301. Through a comprehensive exploration of business continuity, disaster recovery, business impact analysis BIA, and emergency response planning, participants will develop actionable skills in crisis management, continuity planning, incident response, and strategy selection.

-The course bridges theory with practice, emphasizing how to pass the ABCP exam while applying concepts in real world environments. It highlights BCP training principles, continuity planning frameworks, hot-site and cold-site recovery, and organizational resilience design. Learners will gain a strategic understanding of risk assessment, staff recovery, and plan testing, while also working with case-based scenarios and checklists for recovery objectives and crisis communication. Participants leave with the skills to lead BCP policy writing, risk mitigation planning, recovery planning, and cost-effective business continuity strategies, along with curated free ABCP preparation resources.

FAQ:

What specific qualifications or prerequisites are needed for participants before enrolling in the course?

No prior certification is required. However, a foundational understanding of business operations or risk management is beneficial. This course is ideal for beginners and professionals transitioning into the field.

How long is each day's session, and is there a total number of hours required for the entire course?

Each day's session is generally structured to last around 4-5 hours, with breaks and interactive activities included. The total course duration spans five days, approximately 20-25 hours of instruction.

What's the difference between disaster recovery and business continuity, and why does it matter for the ABCP exam?

Disaster recovery focuses on restoring IT systems and data after a crisis. Business continuity encompasses all critical business functions, including people, facilities, and communication—not just IT. ABCP candidates must understand this distinction as it's foundational to BCM strategy development and exam success.

How This Course is Different from Other ABCP Courses:

"ABCP Prep: BCM Strategies, BIA & Risk Plans" sets itself apart by merging certification preparation with hands-on continuity strategy design. Unlike generic ABCP courses, this training integrates real business continuity planning scenarios with guided recovery planning exercises. Using structured methodologies from both ISO 22301 and DRII professional practices, participants gain exposure to field-tested templates, vendor management practices, and live plan writing simulations. It also emphasizes emerging concepts like staff recovery logistics, cost-effective resilience strategies, and emergency operations center EOC development. Participants walk away ready to lead continuity efforts within their organization and succeed in the ABCP exam with applied, not just theoretical, knowledge.
