FAQ:

- What specific qualifications or prerequisites are needed for participants before enrolling in the course? •

No formal prerequisites are required. However, a basic understanding of project management methodologies is beneficial.

How long is each day's session, and is there a total number of hours required for the entire course? •

Each session lasts approximately 4-5 hours, with interactive exercises. The total course duration is 20-25 hours.

What is the difference between ISO 21502 and PMP Certification? •

1. Purpose & Focus

ISO 21502: A global guidance standard providing best practices for organizations managing projects. •
PMP Certification: A professional certification validating an individual's expertise in project management. •

2. Approach

ISO 21502: Practices-based, offering high-level guidance for project governance. •
PMP: Process-based, with defined methodologies and structured project phases. •

3. Application

ISO 21502: Suitable for organizations to implement standardized project management frameworks. •
PMP: Focuses on individual competency, improving career prospects. •

4. Exam & Requirements

ISO 21502: No specific exam; training available through accredited providers. •
PMP: Requires experience, 35 hours of training, and passing a 180-question exam. •

5. Recognition & Use

ISO 21502: Used globally by organizations to improve project management maturity. •
PMP: Recognized worldwide for professionals seeking career advancement. •

Which One?

Choose ISO 21502 for organizational framework implementation. •
Choose PMP for individual certification & career growth. •
